Cleaning & Hygiene

NATURE AND FAMILY FRIENDLY

This line of high quality, herbal-based products allows for best solutions to conscientious customers who care about their home and environment.

- Faber Chemicals and Medicine (est. 1994) set out to produce cleaners and hygiene products under the brand Faber Naturex to meet the increasing demand for environmentally friendly solutions to household chemicals.

- Faber Naturex is one of the first brands to obtain Halal certification for cleaning products. This means that the products, besides abiding by a set of timeless values, undergo rigorous examination to meet the highest standards of purity and harmlessness to human and environmental health.

- Select Faber Naturex products are certified VEGAN. This means that, no animal is exploited or tested in the production from the raw materials to resulting formulations. The ingredients are carefully selected to avoid any animal content, instead herbal-derived components or naturally occurring minerals are used.

As Faber Family, we constantly on the lookout for the most modern and responsible ways to implement hygiene – the essential of a healthy and harmonious living, and we hope that our products help and inspire you to make a shift for a better life.
